

Ordinance No 75.

An ordinance specifying and adopting a plan for the purchase of a plant and distribution system for the generation and distribution of electrical energy within the Town of Yeall; Washington declaring the estimated cost thereof, adopting a plan for the purchase of the present plant, and providing for the submission of the question to the qualified voters of said town at a special election.

Be it ordained by the Town Council of the Town of Yeall:

Section I: That the Town Council of the Town of Yeall deemed advisable and for the best interests of the said town and its inhabitants, to acquire, hold, and hereafter to operate the present generating plant and distribution system, generating and distributing electrical energy to the inhabitants of the said town.

Section II: In order to make such design effective, the Town Council of Yeall does hereby adopt a plan which is as follows, to-wit: That the town purchase from the present owners, namely, C. H. Miller and Stella M. Miller, his wife, who now hold and do business as Northern Clark County Light and Power Company, the present generating plant and distribution systems now installed and in place, to include in the purchase all poles, lines, meters, transformers, and equipment of every kind, character, or nature used in connection with, or a part of the generation and distribution of electrical energy, excepting that it is not the plan of the Council to purchase of the owners any real estate, excepting the lease hold rights, the fee to which is owned by the Clark County Lumber Company, nor the buildings and office equipment of the present owners.

Section III: That the cost of acquiring the said plant is to be $3,999.00.

Section IV: That there shall be no general indebtedness created by the purchase of the said plant and distribution system, as funds on hand in the general fund of the said town are sufficient to make the purchase.

Section V: It is further hereby ordained that the question whether or not the town shall acquire the said generating plant and distribution system as herein outlined, shall be submitted for ratification or rejection to the qualified voters of the Town of Yeall - at a special election which is hereby called for the 25th day of May 1926.

Section VI: Such election shall be held at the regular polling places of the Town of Yeall, Clark County, Washington, and the polls shall be opened for the reception of votes from 8:00 am of the said date until 8:00 pm of the said date.

Section VII: The Town Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to give notice of the said election, which notice shall include the form of ballot, and shall state the places where the election shall be held, and the hours that the polls shall remain open, which notice shall be given by publication in the paper during the town printing, by publication thereof in each issue of said paper during said time.
